

An Update on Your Prayers...

Ghana elections are coming this Saturday - December 7, 2024. Please pray that there would be calmness and order at the voting stations and that the outcome of this election would be one that people accept. Pray that God would use the new leader of the country to advance His kingdom in Ghana.

Matthew and Asana – It has been a roller coaster ride this past month. Satan does not want to let go of the hold that he has had on Matthew all these years. Please pray that he fully surrenders to God as he has made decisions and has deeply hurt his family. There has been a fragile thread of reconciliation, and I am grateful that we continue to meet for Bible study. An answer to your prayer is that God did provide Matthew a government job as a security man at our local high school. This is a miracle and direct answer to your prayers as many people applied for this job.

Reading Club – the club continues to be an opportunity to help children grow in their reading ability and to help them understand they are loved by God. Please continue to pray for wisdom in how to help them love each other. Pray that they will have open hearts to Jesus.

Discipleship Training Program – Thanks for praying for Miriam and I and the other pastors who lead this program. We are thankful for the opportunity to share our lives with the young people attending. Pray for opportunities to encourage them and connect with them outside of this program.

Ai and Rita – Thanks for praying for my friends who were pregnant. Both had difficulties and the risks are so much higher here. Ai was pregnant with twins and delivered prematurely. She lost one of the babies and her surviving son had to stay in the hospital in an incubator for over a week. He is still weak and tiny and needs your prayers as he has recently been hospitalized for pneumonia.

Praise God, after a long wait and c-section, Rita delivered a big healthy boy who are both doing well and back at home.

Miriam and Pastor Abel – For many years Pastor Abel has been patiently waiting for Miriam. He is a smart man and realized that waiting for her would be worth it. I am thankful for this godly man who loves Jesus, is a leader not only in the church, but in the district churches and his community. He is a man of integrity and loves Miriam well. Praise God that many of the family have accepted this upcoming marriage. There is just one more uncle that has not accepted – please pray that God softens his heart. They are starting marriage counselling and will get married in February. By the grace of God, my parents will make the journey and others who know, and love Pastor Abel and Miriam will also come to celebrate with them. Thank you for all your prayers for Miriam throughout the years – we are looking forward to how God will use her and her husband for His kingdom in this next adventure of marriage.

Upcoming Prayer Requests:

Youth Club Ghana Christmas Party– We will be having our Christmas party on December 12th. Please pray that we have enough leaders to help us. Pray for the youth and children that come, that they would have open hearts to hear the Christmas story and know Jesus' love for them.

Youth Christmas Convention – December 20-22 - Pray that hearts would be prepared and ready for what the Lord wants to do with the weekend. Pray for the speakers as they speak on the theme "Bringing the lost sheep back into the fold." John 10:16. Pray for me as I do a devotional about the history of Christmas.
